DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because in Fig. 10 numeral 6a should be 7a. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Each claim must begin with a capital letter and end with a period. Periods may not be used elsewhere in the claims except for abbreviations. MPEP Section 608.01(m). Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The movement of fluid through the pump and the manner of hydraulically clamping each side of the gear housing must be detailed. How high and low pressure affects each of the valves and pilot pistons, and what surfaces of the sides of the gear housing are biased by high pressure fluid must be set forth in the detailed description. Also, in Fig. 4 what holds valve 28 in the closed position?

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "said outside pressurized axial area" and "the inside pressurized axial area" in lines 10 and 11. There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claim.

Claim 2 recites the limitation "the end covers" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by either Dworak et al. (Dworak) (Fig. 1) or Lipsombe (Fig. 1). Each of the references discloses a hydraulic gear pump comprising a gear housing and means (16-19 in Dworak and 7, 8 in Lipsombe) on either side of the housing; a pair of intermeshing gears in the gear housing; and the means on each side being hydraulically clamped to each side of the gear housing by the pump generated pressure of fluid surrounding the pump as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kalle in view of Martin et al. (Martin). Kalle shows a hydraulic gear pump comprising a gear housing (9) and means (14) on either side of the housing; a pair of intermeshing gears in the gear housing; and the means being hydraulically clamped to each side of the gear housing by pump generated pressure of fluid surrounding the pump. The claims differ from the primary reference by reciting that the gears are carried by a drive shaft and an idler shaft as taught by the drive shaft (31) and idler shaft (32) of Martin since Kalle lacks an idler shaft. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide the gears of Kalle with the addition of an idler shaft, as taught by Martin, to accurately position the gears for intermeshing engagement in order to efficiently pump fluid.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kaempe et al. disclose hydraulically clamping a means (18) on the side of a gear housing (16), and Gordon (Fig. 6A) and Turolla (Fig. 3) teach having valves (188 in Gordon and 20, 120 in Turolla) for hydraulically clamping a side of a gear pump against the gear housing in either direction of rotation of the pump drive shaft.
